In her new role, Bennett leads the Indiana team and represents Aqua in state government interactions and in the communities Aqua serves. She will also plan and lead utility acquisition opportunities across the state.

"Kari brings extensive regulated utility experience and an environmental science and legal background that uniquely positions her to lead our water and wastewater business in Indiana," said Arnold. "She will be a fundamental asset to Aqua Indiana as we look to continue our growth in the state and execute on our mission to deliver earth's most essential resource to our customers."

Prior to joining Aqua, Bennett served as the executive director of customer experience at the Midcontinent Independent System Operator, a not-for-profit, member-based organization that delivers electric power across 15 states and one Canadian province. She also previously served as a commissioner for the Indiana Utility Regulatory Commission, and the general counsel for the Indiana Department of Natural Resources. Bennett earned her bachelor's degree from the Miami University of Ohio and a juris doctorate from the University of Minnesota.

Aqua America Chairman and CEO Christopher Franklin shared his excitement to see Bennett assume the role. "Since becoming CEO in 2015, I have continually sought to bring further gender diversity to our management team, and in that time we have added numerous experienced and talented women to our leadership. I am excited to have Kari on board, I look forward to her contributions and I am proud of our ongoing efforts to align our workforce with the diverse population of customers we serve."
